Kranj je prijetno zgodovinsko mesto na sotočju dveh gorskih rek, Save in Kokre. V starem mestnem jedru zgradbe obkrožajo pravokoten trg z vodnjakom, mestno hišo in farno cerkev Sv. Kancijana. V tem delu mesta lahko obiskovalec vidi niz okrašenih pročelij, vabljivih stebrišč in privlačnih dvorišč ter si skrajša pot iz ene v drugo ulico skozi ozke prehode. Vsaka hiša je nekaj posebnega. Posamezne zgradbe, kot so mestno obzidje, grad, cerkve stare gostilne, osnovna šola in gledališče, so še posebno pomembne za zgodovino mesta.

Danes staro mestno središče obkrožajo nove zgradbe in naselja, onkraj katerih se še vedno razprostirajo polja, pašniki, gozdovi in številne vasi.

Kranj je med ljubitelji slovenske literature znan kot mesto, kjer je pokopan France Prešeren in po muzeju, posvečenem njegovemu spominu.

Z desnega brega Save se nam prikaže veličasten

KRANJ - MESTO GOSTITELJ

pogled na mesto, ki leži pod veličastno piramido čez 2.000 m visokega Storžiča. Tudi sama mestna veduta posnema obliko piramide, kje rvzvonik cerkve Sv. Kancijana predstavlja njen vrh. Številni hribi in gore, ki obkrožajo Kranj, so priljubljeni cilji popotnikov in hribolazcev. Očarljivi so sprehodi vzdolž bregov Save in Kokre, kjer bo sprehajalec obšel tolmune in brzice, se sprehodil skozi gozdičke, polja, travnike in vasi. V bližini Kranja je obilo privlačnih izletniških točk.

Na severnem delu mesta leži področje namenjeno športu. Šprtni park je namenjen nogometu, tenisu, košarki, atletiki in rolanju.

Pred leti je bil dograjen pokriti bazen olimpijskih mer, ki skupaj z odprtim bazenom nudi ugodne pogoje za rekreacijsko plavanje, treninge in tekmovanja v plavanju, vaterpolu in podvodnem hokeju.

Kranj is a pleasant historic town situated on a rocky promontory at the confluence of two mountain rivers, the Sava and the Kokra. The buildings of the old town centre are clustered around a rectangular market square in which are a fountain, the town hall and the parish church of Sv. Kancijan. In this part of town visitors can see a variety of ornamental facades, inviting arcades and attractive courtyards and can cut through from one street to another by small alleyways. Each house is distinctive.

Certain structures have particular relevance to the towns history, such as the walls with towers, the castle, churches, old inns, the grammar school and the theatre. The old town centre is now surrounded by new buildings and suburbs, while further out still are fields, pastures, forests and numerous villages. Kranj is particularly well known, however, among lovers of Slovenian literature, for being the burial place of Prešeren and for the museum in his memory.

From the right bank of river Sava a magnificent view of the town can be obtained. Lying under the majestic pyramid of Storžič, a mountain over 2,000 m high, the town's profile appears to mimic this pyramid, having as its peak the bell tower of Sv. Kancijan's parish church.

The numerous hills and mountains surrounding Kranj are popular weekend destinations for ramblers and mountain walkers. There are many delightful walks along the banks of the Sava and Kokra. The walkers are passing pools and rapids, strolling through forests, fields, meadows and villages. There are many destinations for excursions in the vicinity of Kranj. To the north of town lies the area devoted to sport activities and events. The sports park has space for football, tennis, basketball, an athletic track, roller skating area .

Several years ago an indoor Olympic swimming pool was completed which, together with the open air pool, provides recreational swimming facilities as well as practise and competition area for swimming, waterpolo and underwater hockey teams.
